CONDITIONS OF SALE.

FIRST.—The highest bidder to be the buyer; and if any dispute arise between two or more bidders, the lot in dispute shall be immediately put up again and re-sold, or not, as the auctioneer may decide, who is also to regulate the biddings and be the sole arbiter. The vendors reserve the right of bidding by themselves or agent, and of withdrawing any lot or lots.

SECOND.—The purchasers to give in their names and places of abode, and to pay down, if required, 5s. in the £, or more, in part of payment, or the whole of the purchase-money, in default of which the lot or lots so purchased to be immediately put up again and re-sold.

THIRD.—The lots are to be taken away and paid for, whether genuine and authentic or not, with all faults and errors of description, the day after the sale; Messrs. FOSTER not being responsible for the correct description, genuineness, or authenticity of any lot.

FOURTH.—To prevent inaccuracy in delivery and inconvenience in the settlement of the purchases, no lot can be transferred, nor can any lot be removed during the time of sale; each buyer must pay for the whole of his purchases before any lot is removed.

FIFTH.—All lots uncleared within the time aforesaid may be re-sold by public or private sale, when and where the vendors think proper, without notice to the defaulter; and the deficiency (if any), and the expenses attending such re-sale, and any other loss the vendor may sustain, shall be made good by the defaulter, but this condition is without prejudice to the vendor enforcing the purchase, whether a deposit has been paid or not.

NOTE.—All lots remaining uncleared, by either Vendors or Purchasers, beyond three days from the day of sale, will be subject to a charge of 6d. each per week for warehousing from the day of sale.

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

FIRST.—The highest bidder to be the buyer; and if any dispute arise between two or more bidders, the lot in dispute shall be immediately put up again and re-sold, or not, as the auctioneer may decide, who is also to regulate the biddings and be the sole arbiter. The vendors reserve the right of bidding by themselves or agent, and of withdrawing any lot or lots.

SECOND.—The purchasers to give in their names and places of abode, and to pay down, if required, 5s. in the £, or more, in part of payment, or the whole of the purchase-money, in default of which the lot or lots so purchased to be immediately put up again and re-sold.

THE PEEL HEIRLOOMS.

Times —— 10 Oct. 1917.

DISPERSAL OF A FAMOUS COLLECTION.

An order of the Court has just been obtained, we are informed, sanctioning the sale of the remaining contents of Drayton Manor, Tamworth, built in the 18th century by Sir Robert Peel, the first baronet, and lavishly embellished by his famous son with objects of art, pictures, and fine furniture during the first half of the last century.

The fine things which Sir Robert Peel collected with such care and taste have been dispersed by those who came after him. The late owner of the title sold to the nation in 1871 77 pictures, including the well-known Rubens, "Chapeau de Poil," and 18 drawings for a total of £75,000—an amazing bargain, for the Rubens alone is worth almost that amount. In 1900, Messrs. Robinson and Fisher sold a very large portion of the contents of Drayton Manor at their rooms in King-street, St. James's-square, a total of about £72,000 being realized for pictures, sculpture, silver, furniture, and objects of art and decoration generally.

The chief glory of the collection was Sir Thomas Lawrence's masterpiece, the famous portrait of Lady Peel; this was (with other family portraits) expressly reserved as an heirloom, but in the course of a very few years it mysteriously disappeared from Drayton, found its way to Paris, and is now one of the ornaments of Mr. H. C. Frick's fine mansion in Fifth-avenue, New York. In the near future the "Peel Collection" will be nothing more than a name.

What remains of the furnishings of one of the great English country houses will soon come under the hammer of Messrs. Robinson, Fisher, and Co., at Willis's Rooms, and what is not regarded as worth carting to London will be sold on the premises at Drayton Manor by the same firm. Although the collection has been so depleted from time to time, there yet remains a large quantity to be sold, and the sale will be one of considerable importance. There are, we understand, about a dozen portraits by Sir Thomas Lawrence, and these alone would add distinction to any auction sale.

Times —— 16 Nov. 1917

FORTHCOMING SALE OF LAWRENCE PORTRAITS.

The sale of a further portion of the Peel Heirlooms, announced in The Times of October 10, will be held by Messrs. Robinson, Fisher, and Co., at Willis's Rooms, King-street, St. James's-square, on Thursday, November 29, and following day. The first day's sale will consist almost exclusively of the pictures which constituted The Statesmen's Gallery at Drayton Manor, a small selection of which were exhibited at Graves's Galleries, Pall-mall, in May and June, 1908.

By far the most important feature of the collection consists of portraits which Sir Robert Peel commissioned of Sir Thomas Lawrence, a dozen in all. One is of the first Sir Robert Peel, seated, holding a scroll, for the Royal Academy of 1826, and another is of the second baronet, the famous Prime Minister. Sir Francis L. Chantrey, Canning, Lord Liverpool, Bishop Moore (1794), Huskisson, Erskine, Lords Aberdeen, Stowell, and Eldon also figure among the Lawrences. Two other Lawrence portraits which once formed part of The Statesmen's Gallery, the Duke of Wellington and Robert Southey, were sold in 1909. By Hoppner there is a portrait of Lord Grenville, several are by Sir M. A. Shee, John Lucas, and F. R. Say; and Benjamin West, P.R.A., by a portrait of himself.

Two of the portraits by a once famous Court painter, Winterhalter, are of historical interest in that they were presented to Sir Robert Peel by Queen Victoria, after her visit to Drayton Manor in 1846. One is a whole-length of Prince Albert in Court costume, and the other of Queen Victoria with the Prince of Wales (King Edward VII.) as a child, holding her hand. Both pictures are 93in. by 57in.

The second day's sale will include china, weapons (among them a beautifully finished double-barrelled shotgun, inlaid with gold, presented to Peel by the Grand Duke Constantine of Russia), decorative objects, and statuary, including a bust of Lord Byron, by Thorwaldsen, and a marble bust of Sir Robert Peel, second baronet, by Chantrey, 1833.

We understand that the remaining contents of Drayton Manor will be sold on the premises by Messrs. Robinson and Fisher early in the spring.

THE PEEL HEIRLOOMS.

Times —— 6 Dec. 1917

TO-DAY'S SALE OF PORTRAITS.

It is always a melancholy sight when a celebrated historical collection comes to be broken up, and the predominant feeling among those who have lately visited the auction rooms of Messrs. Robinson, Fisher, and Harding, in King-street, has been one of deep regret that it has been found necessary to disperse "The Statesmen's Gallery" at Drayton Manor, formed 80 or 90 years ago by the great Sir Robert Peel.

The pictures, which are to be sold to-day and to-morrow, are interesting both from the men represented and as a memorial of a close friendship between a famous artist and a famous statesman. It was the great success of Sir Thomas Lawrence's celebrated portrait of Mrs. Peel that first led the future Prime Minister to commission the portraits of his chief contemporaries; Sir Thomas fell readily into his design, and in course of time there was formed the Gallery which is to be scattered to-day. The finest things are from Lawrence's own hand, but there are many others by such men as Pickersgill, William Owen, the Frenchman Eugène Lami, John Lucas, Winterhalter, and F. R. Say. About some of these painters, especially the last named, one would like to know more; Say is not mentioned in Redgrave's Dictionary, and his name has passed altogether out of knowledge, but he was evidently a close follower of Lawrence, probably an assistant and pupil. The most interesting of his pictures is the portrait of Mr. Gladstone as a young man of 33, and those of Sir Frederick Pollock and Earl Grey have considerable merit as memorials. It is a pity that the auctioneers' catalogue was not prepared by some one interested in history, for nothing is said to enlighten the company of buyers, who are bound to be mostly ignorant, as to the careers and characters of such men as Earl Grey, Sir James Graham, Henry Hallam, Lord Liverpool (the "Arch-Mediocrity" of Disraeli's "Coningsby"), Sidney Herbert, and Francis Horner.

Of the pictures by Lawrence, perhaps the best are the half-length portraits of Sir Robert Peel himself, of the Earl of Aberdeen, and of Lord Eldon, all of them masterly examples of the best kind of portraiture, painted with perfect mastery and full of character. The once well-known full-length of George Canning, "believed to have been taken at the time he made his famous speech in favour of Catholic emancipation," cannot be called a success: it is too theatrical, and Lawrence was not the man to render any violent momentary emotion. But the Aberdeen and the Eldon are quite first-rate, while the pictures of William Huskisson, Lord Erskine, and Lord Stowell are almost as good, though the subjects are perhaps not so attractive. It is much to be hoped that even in these hard times the best of these pictures will be secured by permanent institutions, such as the National Portrait Gallery, one or two of the great political clubs, and various legal corporations.

INTERESTING SALES.

Telegraph 8 Dec. 1917.

On very rare occasions such heirlooms as silver trowels, used at the laying of foundation-stones, come to auction. When Sir Robert Peel officiated at the opening of the Trent Valley Railway, the presentation to him was a Spanish mahogany wheelbarrow with a silver spade. This produced 37gs (Wilson and Gill) at Robinson and Fisher's yesterday, and the total of the two-days' sale of Peel heirlooms came to £17,000. An historic relic of much importance was the telescope used by Wellington at Waterloo, and presented by him to Sir Robert Peel, 100gs (Agnew). Mr Hooydonk, who bought Lawrence's portraits of the first and second baronets on Thursday gave 270gs for Chantrey's marble bust of the statesman in 1833, and 175gs for Peel as Prime Minister, 1850, a marble bust by M. Noble. For a terra-cotta statuette of George Villiers, Duke of Buckingham, he paid 105gs, a Thorwaldsen bust of Lord Byron realising 230gs (Gollar). A pair of Oriental vases, with Louis Seize ormolu mounts, brought 300gs (Mallett), and two large bronze three-light torchères, 7ft 6in high, 360gs (Campbell). The Winterhalter portrait of the Prince Consort sold on Thursday for 300gs was bought by Messrs. Gooden and Fox, and Mr. Hooydonk again acted for a prominent member of the Peel family.

THE PEEL HEIRLOOMS.

Post Dec. 8.17

Messrs. Robinson, Fisher, and Harding yesterday finished their sale of the Peel Heirlooms (first portion), the afternoon yielding about £4,000, and bringing up the total for the two days to about £17,000. Several of the lots had interesting associations. An old Worcester china dinner and dessert service, with the crest and motto "Industria" of Sir Robert Peel, the first Baronet, was bought by Lady Delia Peel for £120. A telescope used by the Duke of Wellington at Waterloo, and presented by him to Sir Robert Peel, brought £105 (Agnew). A Siberian jasper mantlepiece, presented by the Emperor Nicholas, on the occasion of his Coronation at Moscow, to Sir Robert Peel, third Baronet, went for £157 10s. (Wood). Thorwaldsen's bust of Lord Byron made £241 10s. (Gollar); Chantrey's of Sir Robert Peel, second Baronet, £283 10s. (Hooydank); M. Noble's Sir Robert Peel, Prime Minister, 1850, £183 15s. (Hooydank); a terra-cotta of George Villiers, Duke of Buckingham, £110 5s. (Hooydank). For a pair of large bronze torchères £378 was paid (Campbell); for a chime clock, playing Whittington and Westminster Bells chimes, Chippendale design, £147 (Campbell).

THE PEEL GALLERY.

It was difficult to believe that many of the and dignified originals of the Peel "Gal Statesmen" must once have tripped it ga the floor of the auction-room at Robinson and Fi formerly the famous "assembly" of Almack thought was insistent of the remark made conc a great Lord Chancellor that "no man was so wise as Thurlow looks." Yet the con yesterday seemed to think that Lord Eldon had Lawrence the rare opportunity of limning bea and sagacity. Some historians doubt whether Lord Chancellor was both kindly and wise Lawrence treated him as the possessor of both ties, and clothed him with a Doge-like dignity portrait, in realising 1,400gs (Agnew), wa highest in the sale, the total of which was £13,500.

Mr. H. Bruton, of Gloucester, obviously for the Eldon family, tried hard to win this pe and succeeded in buying at 330gs that of Stowell, Eldon's elder brother, who was, in hi the chief authority on international law. The rence "Lord Erskine," the witty Chancellor succeeded Eldon for a brief period in 1806 a quiet event at 160gs (Smith).

Nineteenth-century Prime Ministers, paint Lawrence with the necessary hauteur "to lo part," were tried by the ordeal of auction. Rogert Peel's own presentment came last, an literally a "speaking" likeness of an orator, behalf of a purchaser with close family interest A. Hooydonk, of Old Cavendish-street, won t 1,300gs, acquiring for the same the portrait first baronet (the shrewd cotton-spinner who fo the house), for 1,200gs. The theatrical than dramatic rendering of George Canning a fine frenzy over the Catholic Emancipation reached 1,000gs (Agnew), but Disraeli's bête the Earl of Liverpool was discounted furth 200gs (Leggatt). For the simple reason tha Prime Minister is shown holding papers con with the National Gallery, a national coll should house the portrait. Lawrence's "Ea Aberdeen," the statesman who was Prime Mi in 1852, found warm approval at 950gs, and plays the painter in his certainty of drawing modelling. The gallery of Prime Ministers tained two not by Lawrence, Hoppner's "

IN THE SALE ROOM.

THE PEEL HEIRLOOMS.

Messrs. Robinson, Fisher, and Harding beg terday a two days' sale of the Peel Heirlooms prising the famous Statesmen's Gallery formed Robert Peel close on a century ago at Drayton These portraits of notable personalities of a day have in many cases the double interest attac a distinguished sitter and a well-known painter of "Queen Victoria with the Prince of Wales Edward VII.) as a Child," by Winterhalter, for Messrs. Colnaghi and Obach paid £630, was pr by her late Majesty to Sir Robert Peel after h to Drayton Manor in 1846. A whole length of Albert, by the same artist, made £315 (Goode Fox). Then, again, Lawrence's whole leng George Canning, which was bought by Messrs. for £1,050, is believed to have been painted occasion of Canning's famous speech on C Emancipation in 1812. Among the other Law catalogued yesterday were: "Earl of Eldon," £1,470 (Agnew); "Sir Robert Peel, 1st. Bart.," £1,365 (Hooybank); "Sir Robert Peel, 2nd £1,365 (Hooybank); "Earl of Aberdeen," 1808, £ (Agnew); "Earl of Liverpool," whole length (Leggatt); "Moore, Archbishop of Canterbury, £546 (T. W. Ward). William Owen's "I Horner" made £420 (Agnew); Benjamin West's trait of the Artist," £346 10s. (Cohen); Hop "Lord Grenville," £304 10s. (Thrift). There w a very interesting portrait of W. E. Gladsto early as 1842, by S. R. Say, which brought £2 (H. N. Gladstone). The total for the afternoo £12,800.

THE PEEL HEIRLOOMS.

1,400 GUINEAS FOR A LAWRENCE PORTRAIT.

Times 7 Dec. 1917

Willis's Rooms, King-street, St. James's-square, were crowded yesterday with dealers and amateurs at the sale of a further portion of the Peel heirlooms from Drayton Manor, to which reference was made in The Times yesterday. Mr. Harding, of Messrs. Robinson, Fisher, and Harding, conducted the sale, which produced a total of £12,800 for 101 lots. There were no sensational prices, but the general average per lot was high, and the competition keen even for pictures not of the highest artistic order. The portraits, it may be noted, were mostly of politicians who were prominent during the lifetime of the great Sir Robert Peel, and constituted what was known as the Statesmen's Gallery at Drayton.

The chief interest centred in the portraits by Sir Thomas Lawrence, the highest price, 1,400 guineas, being paid by Messrs. Agnew for the portrait of the Earl of Eldon, exhibited at the Royal Academy of 1828, and measuring 55in. by 43in. The companion pair of portraits of the first and second Sir Robert Peel, that of the former having been in the Royal Academy of 1826, each realized 1,300 guineas, and were purchased by Mr. Hoodyank, of Old Cavendish-street, who was understood to be acting for a member of the family. Lawrence's portrait of George Canning, believed to have been taken at the time he made the famous speech in favour of Catholic emancipation, 1812, was bought by Messrs. Agnew for 1,000 guineas. The other Lawrence portraits included the Earl of Liverpool holding papers connected with the National Gallery, 200 guineas (Leggatt); Archbishop Moore of Canterbury, 1794, 520 guineas (T. W. Ward); William Huskisson, 210 guineas (Agnew); Lord Erskine, 1802, 160 guineas (Swift); the Earl of Aberdeen, 1808, 950 guineas (Agnew); and Lord Stowell, 1824, 330 guineas (H. W. Bruton, of Gloucester).

The two portraits by Winterhalter realized high prices for this artist, but both were presented to Sir Robert Peel by Queen Victoria after her stay at Drayton Manor in 1846. The whole-length of Queen Victoria, with the Prince of Wales (King Edward VII.) as a child holding her hand, was bought by Messrs. Colnaghi and Obach for 600 guineas; and the whole-length of Prince Albert wearing orders went to Messrs. Gooden and Fox at 300 guineas. The excellent portrait of W. E. Gladstone, 1842, by F. R. Say, was bought by Mr. H. N. Gladstone, of Hawarden, for 210 guineas; and the numerous other portraits by the same artist included that of the Earl of Ellenborough wearing an order, 195 guineas (Swift).

The sale to-day will include the table glass, porcelain, weapons, decorative furniture, statuary, and miscellaneous articles.

renville," (1806-7), 290gs. and Gladstone, a ential leader at 33, by F. R. Say, 210gs.

Two Royal portraits by that favoured foreign tist, Winterhalter, were well received. That of ueen Victoria, with King Edward as a child, ought 600gs (Colnaghi), and the Prince Consort's 00gs (Ellis). These were presented by the Queen on her visit to Drayton Manor in 1846. Reverting to Lawrence, one should mention the fine portrait Archbishop Moore, 520gs (Ward), and that of he ill-fated William Huskisson, the unfortunate Minister who was killed at the opening of the Liverpool and Manchester Railway in 1830, 210gs. The small sum of 36gs was given for the Lawrence "Sir Francis Chantrey," but we remember Chantrey's bust of Sir Walter Scott bringing £2,250 in the Peel sale 1903. The day bristled with historical memories, and William Owen's portrait of that Scottish Maecenas Francis Horner—400gs (Agnew)—called to mind the fact that in his youth this high-minded patron of letters was sent from Edinburgh to a Middlesex parsonage "to unlearn his native dialect."

Times 8 Dec. 1917.

The sale yesterday of the remaining portion of the Peel heirlooms at Messrs. Robinson, Fisher, and Harding's, Willis's Rooms, King-street W., produced a total of about £4,000, the two days amounting to approximately £17,000. The chief prices were realized by the statuary.

A marble bust of Sir Robert Peel, second baronet, by Sir F. Chantrey, R.A., 1833, was bought at 270 guineas by Mr. Hoodyank, who also purchased Mr. Noble's marble bust of the same statesman, 1850, at 170 guineas, and a finely executed terra-cotta bust of George Villiers, Duke of Buckingham, by an unknown sculptor, for 105 guineas. A bust of Lord Byron, by Thorwaldsen, sold for 230 guineas (Gellar).

Among the furniture and miscellaneous articles, four finely-carved ebony old Goa-work elbow chairs of the time of Charles I., with open-work back and decorations in roses and scrolls, were knocked down for 112 guineas; and four settees en suite for 200 guineas. An old Worcester China dinner and dessert service, with crest and motto of the first Sir Robert Peel, was bought for £120; a telescope by Berge of London, being the one used by the Duke of Wellington at the Battle of Waterloo, and presented by him to Sir Robert Peel—100 guineas (Agnew); a pair of large bronze three-light torcheres, supported by figures of storks, 7½ft. high—360 guineas (Campbell); a Siberian jasper mantelpiece, 6½in., presented to Sir Robert Peel, the third baronet, by Nicholas, Emperor of Russia, on the occasion of his coronation at Moscow—150 guineas (Wood); an upright hall chime clock, in finely decorated case of Chippendale design—140 guineas (Campbell); a finely executed wood and ivory model of Lord Nelson's ship, Victory—115 guineas (H. and J. CONDITIONS OF SALE.

FIRST.—The highest bidder to be the buyer; and if any dispute arise between two or more bidders, the lot in dispute shall be immediately put up again and re-sold, or not, as the auctioneer may decide, who is also to regulate the biddings and be the sole arbiter. The vendors reserve the right of bidding by themselves or agent, and of withdrawing any lot or lots.

SECOND.—The purchasers to give in their names and places of abode, and to pay down, if required, 5s. in the £, or more, in part of payment, or the whole of the purchase-money, in default of which the lot or lots so purchased to be immediately put up again and re-sold.

THIRD.—The lots are to be taken away and paid for, whether genuine and authentic or not, with all faults and errors of description, the day after the sale; Messrs. FOSTER not being responsible for the correct description, genuineness, or authenticity of any lot.

FOURTH.—To prevent inaccuracy in delivery and inconvenience in the settlement of the purchases, no lot can be transferred, nor can any lot be removed during the time of sale; each buyer must pay for the whole of his purchases before any lot is removed.

FIFTH.—All lots uncleared within the time aforesaid may be re-sold by public or private sale, when and where the vendors think proper, without notice to the defaulter; and the deficiency (if any), and the expenses attending such re-sale, and any other loss the vendor may sustain, shall be made good by the defaulter, but this condition is without prejudice to the vendor enforcing the purchase, whether a deposit has been paid or not.

NOTE.—All lots remaining uncleared, by either Vendors or Purchasers, beyond three days from the day of sale, will be subject to a charge of 6d. each per week for warehousing from the day of sale.
